Welcome to the Third edition of our CCG newsletter.

Keeping you up to date with news about our Event Programme, workstreams, National and Regional Chapters and much much more.....

National Co-Chair Update

Kia ora, this quarter's newsletter introduces you to our Northland Chapter team members. The Northland Chapter has been running for just over 2 years and our Northland team have successfully delivered a number of seminars to date, and are committed to providing our Northland CCG members with relevant and topical events going forward.

This issue we also take a look at how the Environment, Social and Governance (ESG) workstream is progressing, and review some of the events which have taken place in the past three months across New Zealand. Our new networking events are becoming more and more popular so keep a look out for the next one in your region.

Focus on our Environment, Social and Governance (ESG) Workstream

An update from our workstream lead...

The ESG workstream kicked off its programme with a hiss and a roar in Canterbury with a session titled “Do we care about Carbon, post election?”

Francois Baudet
Project Delivery Manager
Christchurch International Airport

We focused on carbon and how development Life Cycle Assessments can help drive carbon out of our developments while maintaining the value proposition. The panel discussion, which included Katie Symons from MBIE, was a great way to discuss the challenges with the new Government mood on what role regulation might play in New Zealand’s approach to carbon counting in property and infrastructure.

As with all our content we aim to achieve 2 key things:

- Always provide content that is relevant to our membership whether that be a current challenge or opportunity to grow.
- Always ensure meaningful outputs are generated from workstream events.

Looking further ahead and continuing to stay true to these pillars we are looking to develop content around the following key ESG themes;

Environmental

- Energy - How do we all get the energy we need to electrify within constrained capacity?
- Adaptation - what we do as developers and asset owners in response to the changing climate. How do we protect our asset value for the long term?
- Waste minimisation and the circular economy
- Increasing Biodiversity within the development framework

Social

- Social procurement – how can we realistically build better outcomes through smart social procurement practices

Governance

- Development sustainability ratings Systems / Frameworks and how they support development goals

As always at the CCG we are open to members and non-members alike putting their hand up to help lead one of the themes identified above or even develop their our based on a market need. Please don’t hesitate to reach-out to Francois Baudet email: francois.baudet@cial.co.nz to discuss any ideas that you may have.

Regional Networking Events

We are excited to announce the launch of CCG's Regional Networking Events, designed to give local CCG members a chance to connect between our larger regional events. These gatherings offer a valuable opportunity to discuss industry developments and share insights. So far, Christchurch, Northland, and Wellington have successfully hosted these events, and it's been heartening to see members come together during these challenging times for the industry.

These networking events not only bring industry contacts together, but they can also provide an insight into new technology or engineering innovations such as in Wellington where the networking event centered around a site visit to the Living Pā, a new building for Victoria University constructed by LT McGuinness using an innovative wooden structure.
